Saskatoon Aboriginal Program and Inventory

2013-2014

INTRODUCTION

The Kitaskinaw Saskatoon Aboriginal Program and Inventory 2013-2014 is a listing of over 1,000 programs and services intended for, or accessed by, Saskatoon's Aboriginal community in 2013-2014.

It provides key program and service information including the resource name, description and provider.

Information included in the inventory was gathered from sources including:

- § The City of Saskatoon MeTaWeTan Directory
- § United Way of Saskatoon and Area 211 Saskatchewan service directory – sk.211.ca
- § University of Saskatchewan Aboriginal Engagement Directory
- § Saskatchewan Ministry of the Economy Aboriginal Business Directory
- § Clarence Campeau Métis Economic Development Sector Métis Business Directory
- § Advice from the Technical and Advisory Committee members
- § An internet search
- § Literature search
- § Media articles
- § Scan of the Saskatoon environment (events, poster boards, pamphlets, and word of mouth)

Programs and services included in the inventory were grouped using the Aboriginal Life Promotion Framework © (ALPF©), which is based on medicine wheel teachings. The framework uses sixteen important areas of life to organize thoughts, ideas, and information. Health and wellness occur when there is balance between the different elements.

Health is a balance of the spiritual, emotional, physical and intellectual aspects of a child, youth, adult, or Elder who live as individuals, families, communities and nations within various cultural, social, economic and political environments.

- Dr. Judith Bartlett, ALFP © Workshop, 2012

Community Involvement	Gabriel Dumont Institute of Native Studies and Applied Research (Publishing)	The Publishing Department prides itself on its active community involvement. We continue to participate in committees that support our publishing program and GDI's mandate. These committees include the Saskatchewan Publishers Group, the Saskatchewan Archives Board, and the Museums Association of Saskatchewan, Heritage Saskatchewan and the Saskatchewan Writers' Guild. The Publishing Department believes that its success is due to being a community-based publisher. This has led us to increase the amount of time and energy that we spend within Métis communities and at community events. We sincerely believe, through the support we receive, that we often serve as a liaison for the Métis community. To date, the Publishing Department has had a presence at over seventy Métis cultural events across Saskatchewan, and occasionally nationally. The Publishing Department has maintained a partnership with the Batoche National Historic Site (BNHS) and Parks Canada for many years. Through the partnership, GDI and BNHS have co-hosted numerous events to promote and preserve Métis culture including National Aboriginal Day Celebrations, Honouring Métis Veterans, Back to Batoche events, storytelling circles, remembrances of the Battle of Tourond's Coulee and the Battle of Batoche, and many more. This partnership was recognized as the 2009 Corporate Partner of the Year at the Saskatchewan Tourism Awards of Excellence.
Community Outreach and Engagement	University of Saskatchewan	"Engagement and outreach has a proud history at the University of Saskatchewan and we continue to build on that tradition as we work more closely with communities in Saskatoon, across the province and around the world. From hands-on learning to community-based research, our faculty and students bring innovative ways of looking at challenges and, with community partners, form collaborative relationships that support creative solutions."

Métis Veterans Memorial Monument Project	Gabriel Dumont Institute of Native Studies and Applied Research	The importance of Métis veterans to the Métis community cannot be understated. Our veterans occupy a point of honour at all Métis gatherings and cultural events. The Métis Veterans Memorial Monument will be a landmark for generations of Métis people to gather and pay homage to the servicemen and servicewomen who have served our country. The Métis Veterans Memorial Monument Project is supported by the Métis community by way of a Métis National Council Annual General Assembly resolution and a Métis Nation - Saskatchewan (MN -S) Provincial Métis Council resolution.  Already a site sacred to the Métis, Batoche is a fitting site for people to gather to remember and honour Métis

The Batoche grounds are maintained by the MN -S and the Métis Veterans Memorial will be maintained as part of the existing maintenance of the site.
New Nation Magazine	Gabriel Dumont Institute of Native Studies and Applied Research	The New Nation: La noovel naasyoon, is a publication of the Gabriel Dumont Institute (GDI), which promotes Métis history and culture, the Institute's activities and programs, and the larger Métis community in the province. Four issues a year will be published, one for each season: winter, spring, summer, and fall. Subscription rates to The New Nation: La noovel naasyoon will remain relatively low as we would like to see as many people as possible read it, and these rates are only meant to recover the costs associated with shipping the magazine. The New Nation: La novel naasyoon will be available for free at the GDI Publishing Office, at cultural events in which GDI has a display, as well as online at the Virtual Museum of Métis History and Culture (www.metismuseum.ca). GDI's mission—to promote the renewal and the development of Métis culture through research, materials development, collections and the distribution of those materials and the development and delivery of Métis-specific educational programs and services—which guides the Institute's work, provides a wide variety of topics to cover in the magazine.
Order of Gabriel Dumont	Gabriel Dumont Institute of Native Studies and Applied Research	"The Order of Gabriel Dumont is awarded by the Gabriel Dumont Institute (GDI) to a small number of persons who have serviced the Métis of Canada with distinction. The award itself, however, is made to persons without regard to race. The Order of Gabriel Dumont Gold medal recognizes those who have distinguished themselves with outstanding service to the Métis. In past practice the Gold medal has been awarded based on lifetime achievements and service. The Order of Gabriel Dumont Silver honours those who have made a significant contribution to the Métis. As part of its 30th anniversary celebration, the Institute introduced the Order of Gabriel Dumont Bronze Medal awards this year. The Bronze Medal award has been specifically designated as a student award to honour those GDI students who have distinguished themselves through their perseverance, centre and community involvement, and overall student performance. The Order is presented in the form of a medallion and a certificate signed by the Officers of the Institute over the seal, which enrolls the recipient in the Order.

Virtual Museum of Métis History and Culture	Gabriel Dumont Institute of Native Studies and Applied Research	GDI – in partnership with the Saskatchewan Department of Learning, the Department of Canadian Heritage's Canadian Culture Online Program, the Canada Council for the Arts, SaskCulture, the Government of Canada and the University of Saskatchewan Division of Media and Technology – is proud to provide you with this systematic look at Métis history and culture. This project is the culmination of years of research gathering and resource production and is based on the Institute's resolute desire to ensure that the Métis have their own stories told in a medium, which is user-friendly, free and accessible to all those interested in Métis history and culture. Released in 2003, The Virtual Museum of Métis History and Culture remains the most thorough and authoritative website relating to Métis history and culture. Containing thousands of images, hundreds of oral histories, dozens of learning resources, this website was produced to demonstrate the Métis' role in building Canada. Included are more than 1,100 Métis-specific images from the Saskatchewan Archives Board, a near complete run of New Breed Magazine, Métis folklore and political activist interviews, and the inclusion of more than 100 images from The Canadian Pictorial and Illustrated War News' coverage of the 1885 Resistance. Rare and out of print books relating to Métis history and culture have also been added.
